

Employees Succeeding Remotely

Course Description

Research shows that successfully making the shift to remote work involves understanding how essential “human” elements change when we’re separated by distance. In this workshop, we explore the science of working remotely and provide tools to not only overcome remote challenges but to thrive and succeed remotely.

Outcomes:

- A strong base of trust with your leaders
- A plan for creating a culture of receiving feedback
- Techniques to communicate better on remote meeting platforms

