

Building Trust with Your Team

Course Description

Trust is an essential component of leadership that can be challenging to build and easy to lose. We've built this class around six key traits of trust, the THREAD model: together, honest, resourceful, empowering, approachable, and dependable. In this course, you will discover where you need to grow and which traits to develop. You will learn actionable steps for becoming a more trustworthy leader. And you learn what to watch out for when applying these key traits.
